

Privacy & Disclaimer Statement

March 2014

Warner Institute, a division of Warner Group Pty Ltd, provides this website, including all written and graphical content, on an “as is, where is” basis for the purpose of encouraging, assisting and promoting the training needs of our current and potential clients.

Warner Institute, to the extent permitted by law, will not be held responsible for any loss, damage or injury caused by, or related to, the use of this website or any information contained on this website at any time and provides no warranty of any kind.

This website is not a substitute for professional advice. Warner Institute does not represent or warrant that the content of this website is accurate, authentic, complete or suitable for your needs. Warner Institute does not represent, warrant or endorse that any of the content found on this website is representative of the views, opinions or policy held by any Warner Institute employee, unless otherwise specified.

This website provides links to external websites. Warner Institute does not control these external websites and does not warrant that they are accurate, authentic or complete. These links are provided for your information and convenience and Warner Institute will not be held responsible for the content of those websites or for any loss, damage or injury caused by, or related to, the use of these websites. Use of an external website is governed by the terms and privacy practices of that website.

Warner Institute recognises the importance of protecting your privacy. We use information provided directly from you so we can communicate with you. When visiting our website, information [such as your browser, date, time and pages accessed] may be recorded for statistical purposes and remains anonymous. Any Information you provide through this website is used only by Warner Institute and will not be sold, shared with or given to third-parties except where permitted or required by law.

The inclusion of any email addresses on this website is not consent to receiving unsolicited commercial electronic messages or “spam”. As the owner of the material on this site, Warner Institute may amend or withdraw any material at any time without notice, including in relation to this privacy and disclaimer statement. Reproduction, adaption, uploading, framing, broadcasting, distribution or transmission of the content of this website in any way is prohibited without Warner Institute written consent.
